red-and-white gingham accents, and adorable felt Christmas characters. It is a wonderful project for holiday baking, Christmas cooking, handmade gifts, or simply adding a festive touch to your kitchen.

This Christmas Apron Sewing Tutorial follows the illustrated sewing guide, including the apron measurements, fabric cutting instructions, strap construction, appliqué assembly, and finishing techniques. Each stage is explained in detail so that sewists in the United States can follow the project from beginning to end.

The finished apron measures approximately 56 cm wide and 72 cm long, with adjustable side ties and a comfortable neck strap. All measurements are provided in centimeters (cm), and the instructions use familiar American sewing terminology.

Step 1: Gather Your Materials and Prepare the Christmas Apron Pattern 🧵

Before beginning your Santa and Reindeer Christmas Apron, organize all your materials and prepare a clean sewing workspace. Having your fabric, felt pieces, thread, and sewing tools ready will make the construction process easier and more enjoyable.

Materials Needed

Main fabrics:

- 60 cm of beige cotton or linen fabric for the apron body, assuming sufficient fabric width
- Approximately 50 cm of red-and-white gingham fabric for the neck strap, side ties, and decorative bottom border
- Lightweight fusible interfacing, optional for additional stability

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Felt for the appliqué:

- Red felt for Santa's hat and coat
- White felt for Santa's beard, hat trim, and coat trim
- Cream felt for Santa's face and the reindeer's muzzle
- Orange felt for Santa's nose and the reindeer's ears
- Light brown felt for the reindeer's body and head
- Dark brown felt for the antlers and hooves
- Black felt for Santa's boots, belt, and facial details
- Yellow felt for Santa's belt buckle

Additional supplies:

- Matching sewing thread
- Black and white embroidery floss
- Fusible web (heat-activated appliqué adhesive)
- Polyester fiberfill, optional for lightly padded appliqué
- Fabric scissors
- Sewing machine
- Hand-sewing needle
- Fabric marking pencil
- Straight pins or sewing clips
- Measuring tape or quilting ruler
- Iron and ironing board

Apron Measurements

The illustrated pattern uses the following dimensions:

Apron component	Measurements
Finished apron	56 cm wide × 72 cm long

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Main apron fabric	2 shaped pieces, 56 × 72 cm overall
Upper apron width	24 cm
Upper straight section	Approximately 7 cm
Lower straight side section	Approximately 45 cm
Bottom gingham border	56 × 8 cm
Neck strap fabric	64 × 4 cm
Side tie fabric	2 pieces, 72 × 4 cm
Santa appliqué	Approximately 28 × 22 cm
Reindeer appliqué	Approximately 26 × 18 cm
Seam allowance	1 cm

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Important measurement note: The graphic gives approximate dimensions and contains a small inconsistency between the cutting dimensions and finished dimensions. For this tutorial, use the 56 × 72 cm shape as the cutting outline, with a 1 cm seam allowance included. The finished apron will be slightly smaller after sewing. If an exact finished size of 56 × 72 cm is required, enlarge the cutting pattern to accommodate the seams.

Prepare the Main Apron Pattern

Start by placing your beige fabric on a large, flat cutting surface. Press the fabric with an iron to remove wrinkles.

Draw a rectangle measuring 56 cm wide and 72 cm tall. This will establish the overall dimensions of the apron pattern.

At the top of the rectangle, center a horizontal line measuring 24 cm. This creates the narrower upper section that covers the chest.

Measure approximately 7 cm downward from the top edge before beginning the curved armhole sections.

From the lower part of the apron, measure approximately 45 cm upward along each side. These points help determine where the armhole curves transition into the straight sides.

Draw smooth, symmetrical curves connecting the upper section to the wider apron body.

The final pattern should resemble a traditional kitchen apron with a narrow bib, gently curved armholes, and a wide rectangular lower section.

Cut out the paper pattern carefully.

Cut the Apron Fabric

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Place the paper pattern on your beige fabric and secure it with pins or fabric weights.

Cut two identical apron pieces:

- One for the apron front
- One for the apron back lining

If desired, apply lightweight fusible interfacing to the wrong side of one piece.

Follow the manufacturer's instructions when applying interfacing, using a pressing cloth if necessary.

This additional layer can help the apron maintain its shape, especially when decorative felt appliqué is attached.

Set both apron pieces aside while preparing the decorative components.

Step 2: Sew the Gingham Border, Neck Strap, and Side Ties ✂️

The red-and-white gingham fabric creates the cheerful Christmas appearance of this apron. It is used for the decorative bottom border, neck strap, and side ties.

Prepare the Bottom Gingham Border

Cut one gingham fabric strip measuring 56 cm × 8 cm, as shown in the illustrated cutting guide.

Place the apron front on your sewing table with the right side facing upward.

Position the gingham strip along the lower edge of the apron, with the right sides of the fabrics facing each other.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Align the raw edges carefully and secure the strip using pins or sewing clips.

Sew across the lower edge using a straight stitch and a 1 cm seam allowance.

Remove the pins as you sew.

Press the seam allowance toward the gingham fabric.

Fold the strip toward the bottom of the apron so that it forms a neat decorative band.

Press again to create a crisp finish.

The illustrated project features a red gingham border across the bottom, giving the apron a traditional farmhouse Christmas appearance.

Helpful sewing tip: Because the graphic specifies an 8 cm strip, the visible border will be narrower after seam allowances and folding. If you want a wider visible gingham band, cut a deeper strip.

Make the Neck Strap

Cut one gingham strip measuring 64 cm long × 4 cm wide.

Fold the strip in half lengthwise with the right sides together.

Align the long raw edges.

Pin the fabric to prevent shifting.

Using a straight stitch, sew along the long edge with a 1 cm seam allowance.

Turn the fabric tube right side out using a loop turner, safety pin, or turning tool.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Gently roll the seam toward the back of the strap and press it flat.

Topstitch close to both long edges if desired.

The finished neck strap will measure approximately 2 cm wide and 60 cm long after accounting for the end seams.

Make the Side Ties

Cut two gingham strips measuring 72 cm × 4 cm each.

Follow the same sewing technique used for the neck strap.

Fold each strip lengthwise with right sides together.

Sew along the long edge using a 1 cm seam allowance.

Turn each strip right side out and press.

The finished ties will be approximately 2 cm wide.

To create clean outer ends, turn the raw ends inward by approximately 1 cm and sew them closed with a small straight stitch.

Leave the ends that will be attached to the apron unfinished for now.

Position the Straps and Ties

Lay the apron front right side up.

Place one end of the neck strap at each upper corner of the apron bib.

Make sure the strap forms a loop toward the center of the apron.

The raw ends should align with the upper edge.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Secure them with pins.

Next, position one side tie at each waist point, where the curved armhole meets the straight side of the apron.

Point the ties inward toward the center of the apron so that they will remain between the fabric layers during assembly.

Pin them securely.

For additional strength, baste the strap and ties in place using a short straight stitch approximately 0.5 cm from the raw edges.

This will help prevent the straps from shifting while the apron layers are sewn together.

Step 3: Assemble the Apron Body and Finish the Edges 🪡

Once the straps and decorative border are ready, the next step is to join the two main apron pieces.

Join the Front and Back Layers

Place the decorated apron front on a flat surface with its right side facing upward.

Arrange the neck strap and side ties toward the center of the apron.

Make sure none of the straps extend into the outer seam allowance except at their attachment points.

Place the second beige apron piece over the first, with the right sides facing together.

Carefully align the upper edges, curved armholes, sides, and bottom corners.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Pin around the entire apron.

Pay special attention to the curved areas because these sections can shift during sewing.

Sew Around the Apron

Set your sewing machine to a standard straight stitch.

A stitch length of approximately 2.5 mm works well for medium-weight cotton and linen.

Beginning near the lower edge, sew around the apron using a 1 cm seam allowance.

Follow the curved armhole sections slowly.

When approaching the corners, stop with the needle lowered into the fabric, raise the presser foot, pivot the fabric, and continue sewing.

Leave an opening approximately 10 cm long along the bottom edge.

This opening will allow you to turn the apron right side out.

Backstitch at the beginning and end of the seam to secure the stitches.

Trim and Clip the Seam Allowances

Before turning the apron, inspect the seams.

Trim excess fabric from the corners without cutting through the stitching.

Make small clips along the curved armhole seam allowances.

The clips should approach the stitching line without cutting into it.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

This step allows the curved edges to lie smoothly after turning.

If the fabric is thick around the strap attachment points, carefully reduce the bulk by trimming the seam allowances in layers.

Avoid trimming too close to the stitching because these areas will experience tension during use.

Turn the Apron Right Side Out

Reach through the 10 cm opening at the bottom.

Gently pull the apron through the opening until the right sides are facing outward.

Carefully pull out the neck strap and side ties.

Use a blunt turning tool to shape the corners.

Do not use sharp scissors to push out the corners because they may damage the fabric.

Roll the edges between your fingers to bring the seams into their correct position.

Press the apron thoroughly with an iron.

Close the Opening and Topstitch

Fold the raw edges of the turning opening inward by approximately 1 cm.

Align the folded edges with the surrounding seam.

Pin the opening closed.

Topstitch around the entire apron approximately 0.5 cm from the outer edge.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

This stitching closes the opening and gives the apron a clean, professional finish.

Use matching beige thread for a subtle look or red thread for a decorative Christmas accent.

Check that the neck strap and side ties are firmly attached.

For extra durability, reinforce their attachment points with additional stitching if necessary.

The basic apron is now assembled and ready for its Santa and reindeer decorations.

Step 4: Cut and Prepare the Santa Claus Felt Appliqué 🎅

The Santa Claus appliqué is one of the most charming elements of this Christmas apron.

The illustrated design features Santa wearing a red hat, red coat, black belt, and black boots, with a white beard and cheerful facial expression.

The approximate appliqué size is 28 cm high × 22 cm wide.

Prepare the Santa Templates

Using the illustrated Santa design as a reference, create separate paper templates for the following pieces:

1. Red Santa hat
2. White hat brim
3. White hat pom-pom
4. Cream face
5. White beard
6. White mustache
7. Orange nose

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

8. Black eyes
9. Red coat and sleeves
10. White coat trim
11. Black belt
12. Yellow belt buckle
13. Black mittens
14. Black boots

The illustration provides approximate character dimensions rather than full-size, individually measured templates. Trace or draw the shapes at the desired scale before cutting the felt.

Arrange all the paper templates together to confirm that the completed Santa design will fit within the intended appliqué area.

Cut the Felt Pieces

Place each paper template on the appropriate felt color.

Trace around the shapes using a fabric marking pencil.

Cut each piece carefully with sharp scissors.

Felt generally does not fray, making it ideal for decorative appliqué projects.

Keep small pieces such as eyes, nose, and belt buckle in a small container so they are not lost.

Assemble Santa's Head

Begin with the cream face and white beard.

Position the beard along the lower portion of the face.

Place the white mustache over the upper beard area.

Arrange the orange nose above the mustache.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Add two small black eyes.

Position the red hat over the top of the head.

Attach the white hat brim along the lower edge of the hat.

Finally, place the white pom-pom at the tip.

Before sewing, adjust the pieces until the face resembles the cheerful Santa shown in the illustration.

Stitch Santa's Facial Details

Use black embroidery floss to stitch a small smiling mouth.

If desired, add tiny eyebrows or decorative facial lines.

Secure the felt layers using a small blanket stitch or hand-sewn running stitch.

For a decorative appearance, use contrasting thread around the edges.

A white blanket stitch looks particularly attractive around Santa's red hat.

If you prefer machine appliqué, a narrow zigzag stitch can also secure the larger felt shapes.

Use a stabilizer beneath the fabric if necessary to prevent puckering.

Assemble Santa's Body

Place the red coat piece on your work surface.

Position the white trim along the lower edge.

Add the black belt across the middle of the coat.

Center the yellow buckle over the belt.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Attach the sleeves and black mittens.

Place the black boots beneath the coat.

Arrange the body pieces so that Santa appears to be standing with his feet slightly apart.

Secure the layers using a blanket stitch or a narrow machine zigzag stitch.

Connect Santa's Head and Body

Position Santa's head above the red coat.

Allow the beard to overlap the upper section of the body slightly.

This overlap creates a natural transition between the head and coat.

Pin or temporarily secure the pieces with a small amount of fabric-safe adhesive.

Stitch the overlapping areas carefully.

Your Santa Claus felt appliqué is now ready to be attached to the apron.

Step 5: Create the Reindeer Felt Appliqué 🦌

The reindeer adds warmth and personality to the Christmas apron.

The illustrated reindeer has a light brown body, rounded muzzle, small ears, dark brown antlers, and a friendly expression.

Its approximate size is 26 cm high × 18 cm wide.

Prepare the Reindeer Templates

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Create paper templates for the following shapes:

- Light brown body
- Light brown head
- Cream muzzle
- Two ears
- Two dark brown antlers
- Dark brown hooves
- Black nose
- Small black eyes

Check the proportions before cutting the felt.

The head should be large and rounded, while the body should be slightly narrower toward the top.

The antlers should extend upward from behind the head.

Cut the Felt

Trace the reindeer templates onto the appropriate felt colors.

Cut the light brown body and head pieces.

Cut the cream muzzle and small ear details.

Use dark brown felt for the antlers and hooves.

Cut the eyes and nose from black felt.

Arrange the pieces on your work surface.

Assemble the Reindeer's Head

Place the rounded light brown head piece flat.

Position the cream muzzle over the lower portion.

Add the small black nose near the top center of the muzzle.

Place the eyes above the muzzle.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Arrange the ears on either side of the head.

Position the antlers behind the upper portion of the head.

The antlers should extend upward and slightly outward, matching the appearance shown in the tutorial illustration.

Secure the antlers and ears first so that their lower ends are hidden behind the head.

Stitch the Facial Features

Use black embroidery floss to stitch a gentle smile on the cream muzzle.

Secure the nose and eyes with small stitches.

Sew around the muzzle using a blanket stitch.

Continue around the outer edge of the head.

Use matching brown thread for a subtle finish or a contrasting thread to emphasize the appliqué outline.

Assemble the Reindeer Body

Position the body beneath the head.

Attach the dark brown hoof pieces near the bottom.

If your template includes separate legs, arrange them so that the reindeer appears to be sitting comfortably.

Overlap the head and body slightly.

Stitch the layers together securely.

The finished reindeer should have a soft, rounded appearance that complements Santa Claus.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Step 6: Attach Santa and the Reindeer to the Apron Front

With both felt characters completed, the next step is to arrange them on the apron.

Plan the Appliqué Placement

Lay the finished apron flat on your worktable.

Position the reindeer on the left side of the lower front section.

Place Santa Claus to the right.

Allow the characters to overlap slightly so that they appear to be standing together.

The illustration shows Santa's arm overlapping the reindeer, creating a friendly Christmas scene.

Make sure the characters remain above the red-and-white gingham bottom border.

Leave enough space around the appliqué so that the edges do not interfere with the apron seams.

Secure the Felt Pieces

For the cleanest result, temporarily secure the characters before stitching.

You can use small pieces of fusible web beneath the felt.

Follow the manufacturer's instructions regarding pressing temperature and timing.

Some synthetic felt materials are sensitive to heat, so always test a small scrap first.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Alternatively, use fabric-safe temporary adhesive or hand basting.

Once the appliqué pieces are positioned, check that both characters are straight and centered as a group.

Stitch Around the Appliqué

Thread a hand-sewing needle with matching embroidery floss or sewing thread.

Begin stitching around the reindeer.

Use a blanket stitch to secure the outer edges.

Continue around Santa Claus, paying attention to the hat, beard, coat, and boots.

For areas where the characters overlap, stitch only the visible edges to maintain a layered appearance.

If using a sewing machine, choose a narrow zigzag stitch or decorative appliqué stitch.

Work slowly around curves and small details.

Important: Because the apron body has already been assembled, stitching the appliqué at this stage may pass through both fabric layers. To keep the back free of visible appliqué stitching, attach the characters to the apron front before joining the front and back in Step 3. This is the recommended construction order if you are making the apron from scratch.

Optional: Add a Soft Padded Effect

If you want Santa and the reindeer to have a slightly raised appearance, add a very small amount of polyester fiberfill beneath selected felt pieces.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

The cheeks, beard, and reindeer muzzle are suitable areas for subtle padding.

Do not overfill these sections.

Excessive stuffing can make the appliqué bulky and difficult to wash.

Secure the edges firmly after inserting the fiberfill.

For an apron that will be washed frequently, flat appliqué is generally the more practical choice.

Step 7: Learn the Main Sewing Stitches Used in This Project

The Christmas Apron Sewing Tutorial uses several basic sewing techniques suitable for beginners.

Straight Stitch

A straight stitch is used to join the apron fabric, sew the gingham border, construct the straps, and close seams.

A stitch length of approximately 2.5 mm is suitable for most cotton fabrics.

Keep the fabric aligned with the seam guide on your sewing machine.

Avoid pulling the fabric while sewing.

Backstitch

Backstitching reinforces the beginning and end of a seam.

When starting a seam, sew forward a few stitches, reverse briefly, and then continue forward.

Repeat this process at the end of the seam.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

This technique is particularly important around the neck strap and side ties because these areas experience repeated pulling.

Blanket Stitch

The blanket stitch is used to secure felt appliqué pieces while creating a decorative border.

Bring the needle up through the fabric near the felt edge.

Insert the needle a short distance away and catch the thread loop before tightening.

Repeat evenly around the shape.

Keep the stitches consistent in height and spacing.

Blanket stitching works especially well around Santa's hat, the reindeer's antlers, and the outer edges of the characters.

Topstitch

Topstitching is a visible line of stitching sewn close to a finished fabric edge.

For this apron, sew approximately 0.5 cm from the outer edge.

This technique helps the apron lie flat and strengthens the finished seams.

Zigzag Stitch

A narrow zigzag stitch can be used to attach felt appliqué pieces by machine.

Adjust the stitch width and length according to the thickness of the felt.

Test the stitch on scrap fabric before sewing the actual appliqué.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

A small, dense zigzag stitch can produce a neat decorative edge.

Step 8: Press, Inspect, and Finish Your Christmas Apron ✨

Once the apron and appliqué are complete, take a few minutes to inspect the project.

Check the Seams

Examine the outer seams of the apron.

Look for loose threads, skipped stitches, or uneven areas.

Reinforce any sections that appear weak.

Pay particular attention to the neck strap and side ties.

Make sure the gingham bottom border lies flat and does not twist.

Check the Appliqué

Inspect Santa and the reindeer carefully.

Ensure that all felt pieces are securely attached.

Check the small decorative pieces, including the eyes, nose, belt buckle, and antlers.

If any edges are lifting, add a few hand stitches to secure them.

Give the Apron a Final Press

Place the apron on your ironing board.

Press the beige fabric and gingham sections using the appropriate temperature for the fabric.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Avoid placing a hot iron directly on synthetic felt or decorative embroidery.

Use a pressing cloth when working near the appliqué.

This final pressing will help the apron look neat and professionally finished.

Try On the Apron

Place the neck strap over your head.

Allow the apron to rest comfortably against your chest.

Wrap the gingham side ties around your waist and tie them into a bow.

Check that the apron provides comfortable coverage and allows easy movement.

The completed project should resemble the illustrated apron, featuring a beige body, red-and-white gingham accents, and the adorable Santa and reindeer appliqué.

Step 9: Customize Your Christmas Apron

Once you understand the basic construction method, you can create several variations of this festive sewing project.

Change the fabric colors: Replace the beige fabric with cream, white, forest green, or light gray cotton. Choose gingham or holiday-print fabric that complements the main color.

Add a pocket: Create a rectangular pocket approximately 18 cm wide and 14 cm high. Fold and stitch the upper hem, turn under the remaining edges, and topstitch the pocket onto the apron front before assembling the apron layers.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Use different Christmas characters: Replace Santa and the reindeer with a snowman, gingerbread person, Christmas tree, or festive gnome.

Create a matching kitchen set: Use leftover gingham and felt to make matching potholders, oven mitts, or decorative kitchen towels.

Personalize the apron: Add an embroidered name, Christmas greeting, or small decorative snowflakes around the characters.

These variations allow you to create a unique handmade Christmas apron while following the same basic sewing pattern.

Frequently Asked Questions About the Christmas Apron Sewing Tutorial

Is this Christmas apron suitable for beginners?

Yes. The basic apron construction uses simple straight seams, fabric turning, and topstitching. The felt appliqué requires more patience, but beginners can complete it by working slowly and following the instructions one step at a time.

What is the best fabric for a Christmas apron?

Medium-weight cotton and linen are excellent choices. Cotton is especially beginner-friendly because it is easy to cut, sew, press, and wash. Quilting cotton can also work well, particularly when two fabric layers are used.

Can I use quilting cotton for the apron body?

Yes. Quilting cotton is suitable for this project. If the fabric feels too lightweight, add fusible interfacing or use a slightly heavier cotton lining.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

What type of felt should I use for the appliqué?

Craft felt is suitable for decorative aprons, while wool-blend felt often provides a more refined appearance. Choose felt that maintains its shape and can withstand the intended care routine.

Can I sew the felt appliqué with a sewing machine?

Yes. A narrow zigzag stitch or machine appliqué stitch can secure the felt pieces. Use a stabilizer if necessary and test your settings on scrap fabric first.

Do I need to use fusible web?

No. Fusible web is optional. It helps hold the felt pieces in position before stitching, but you can also use pins, temporary fabric adhesive, or hand basting.

How do I wash the finished Christmas apron?

The washing method depends on the fabric, felt, embroidery thread, and adhesive used. If all materials are washable, gentle washing in cool water may be suitable. Hand washing and air drying are safer choices for aprons with delicate felt decorations or padded appliqué.

Can I make this apron in a different size?

Yes. Adjust the main pattern to fit the intended wearer. Measure the desired apron length, chest coverage, and waist width before redrawing the pattern. Remember to maintain smooth armhole curves and include seam allowances.

Can I make the apron without the reindeer?

Absolutely. You can use Santa Claus alone, enlarge the Santa appliqué, or replace the reindeer with another Christmas design.

https://creative.craftsforlove.com/ - SEE THE BEST PATTERNS

Can I add pockets to the apron?

Yes. Pockets are a practical addition for holding small kitchen tools or recipe notes. Attach the pockets to the apron front before sewing the front and back layers together.

How long does it take to sew this Christmas apron?

The basic apron can often be completed in a few hours. Cutting, assembling, and stitching the detailed felt characters may require several additional hours, depending on your experience and whether you sew the appliqué by hand or machine.

Is this apron a good handmade Christmas gift?

Yes. A personalized Christmas apron makes a thoughtful gift for people who enjoy baking, cooking, crafting, or decorating their homes for the holidays.

Conclusion: Enjoy Your Handmade Santa and Reindeer Christmas Apron 🎄

This Christmas Apron Sewing Tutorial combines practical sewing techniques with festive creativity. By following the measurements, cutting instructions, strap construction, appliqué assembly, and finishing steps, you can create a beautiful handmade apron inspired by the illustrated Santa Claus and reindeer design.

The beige fabric provides a soft, neutral background, while the red-and-white gingham adds a classic Christmas touch. The colorful felt characters bring the design to life and make the apron especially charming for holiday activities.
